Brother Cycles

We're a home-grown London brand producing a range of hand-built steel bicycles. Our ethos has always been to design and build bikes that we would want to own ourselves, each product inspired by our everyday needs and interests.

This ethos now flows through to our new clothing range, a selection of garments inspired by our own tastes and styles. Each design is screen printed onto a selection of high quality t-shirts, sweatshirts and accessories.

In true Brother form we saw the launch of our clothing range as an opportunity for an adventure. So we packed up our bikes and headed south to the rugged coastline near Hengistbury Head. From here we weaved our way inland, away from the ocean, and towards the ancient woodlands of the New Forest...
